Mr. Oscar L. Schneyer
Principal

For His Devotion To BHS We Dedicate This Book To Oscar L. Schneyer

As this school year closes, Mr. Oscar L. Schneyer will complete 30 years of loyal and dedicated service to Buchtel High School. Although he will not return in the fall, Mr. Schneyer and what he has done for Buchtel will not be forgotten. Largely due to his efforts, Buchtel has become one of the finest schools in Ohio and the nation.

Mr. Schneyer was born in a small town in Wisconsin and graduated with a B.A. and M.A. from the University of Wisconsin. He served in the army during World War I and was stationed in France. He came to Akron to teach music and mathematics at East High School before becoming assistant principal at Buchtel in 1934 and principal in 1937.

Mr. Schneyer's contributions to Buchtel have been manifold. He has believed in the policy of classroom grouping in order to meet the academic needs of all pupils. During the summer months, he has spent hour upon hour scheduling classes to fit the wants and needs of the students. He has been a member of the Ohio Council on Advanced Placement and was one of the first seven principals to establish AP classes. Since the program was initiated in 1957, Mr. Schneyer has served as a consultant on the effectiveness of the program.

Buchtel's large extracurricular program is due to the efforts of Mr. Schneyer. He has seen to it that every teacher sponsors a worthwhile outside activity that will broaden the school life of many students. Mr. Schneyer originated the idea of the Home Room Representatives and the Activities Committee in order to give students a voice in their student government. He has met with the Activities Committee every Monday morning to plan and schedule outside activities.

"Bye Bye Birdie" dancers receive pointers from Mr. Schneyer.

Mr. Schneyer leads the student body in the singing of the Alma Mater.

This plaque will serve as a remembrance of Mr. Schneyer's service to Buchtel.

Mr. Schneyer reads an announcement at a senior class meeting.

Mr. Schneyer meets every Monday morning with Activities Committee.

School policy comes from his desk.

Mr. Schneyer's interests and talents are many and varied. He has been an outdoorsman all his life, enjoying all kinds of sports. At the University of Wisconsin he was doubles champ in tennis. His musical talents enabled him to play first chair trumpet at the University of Wisconsin and sing in his church choir. He kept up his interest in dancing by teaching American round dancing to dance groups here at Buchtel from 1957 to 1963. He has also taught dancing to adult groups. He has coached many variety shows and dramatic productions in his career at Buchtel and this year helped organize the presentation of Buchtel's first musical-comedy, "Bye Bye Birdie".

Although he will play the PA chimes for the last time, direct the alma mater for the last time, and address his final words to the student body this June, the work of Oscar L. Schneyer at Buchtel will long be remembered.

Mr. Schneyer enters the gym to address the student body.

Mr. Schneyer plays the traditional morning chimes.

For Her Service To BHS We Dedicate This Book To Dr. Lucile Gustafson

As the senior class we wish to express our appreciation for Dr. Lucile Gustafson's interest and faith in us. We know we speak for both present and past school generations when we say that Buchtel has been fortunate to have had such a scholarly, dedicated person on its staff and we thank her for her years of service.

Dr. Gustafson graduated from Elgin Junior College, and Northwestern University. She received her masters in history from the University of Chicago, and her Ph.D. in Human Relations from New York University. After teaching in Illinois, Dr. Gustafson moved to Akron and taught at West High School. When Buchtel was opened in 1931, she began teaching history here.

Dr. Gustafson's deep interest in human relations has been reflected throughout her career. Her concern for pupils led her to experiment with a program she called Senior Problems. Instead of taking two years of European History and one of American, the pupil took one year of each and in his senior year studied the world's contemporary problems. This program, in modified form, was eventually adopted on a city-wide basis.

Dr. Lucile Gustafson
Senior Counselor

Dr. Gustafson counsels one of her senior students.

Dr. Gustafson brought Advanced Placement to Buchtel. Through her efforts and those of Mr. Schneyer, Buchtel became one of the first schools in the nation to have such a program.

When Buchtel opened, Dr. Gustafson conducted a speaking choir which presented interfaith programs at Christmas. The scripts to these programs were printed in periodicals having a worldwide circulation and Dr. Gustafson received comments from foreign countries on the appropriateness of her programs. Later she received the Brotherhood award in appreciation for her community service.

In order to study human relations in various settings, Dr. Gustafson was an exchange teacher at South Portland High School in Maine. In 1953, she was awarded a Ford Foundation Fellowship enabling her to travel from New York through the South to California. In this way, she gained a first-hand knowledge of various southern institutions. She then attended summer school in Hawaii.

Several of Dr. Gustafson's interests include embroidering, sewing, and knitting. She also enjoys keeping up her house in Illinois which is more than one hundred years old.

Dr. Gustafson has been a counselor at Buchtel since 1954. With the graduation of our senior class, Dr. Gustafson will retire. We wish her well in all her future endeavors.

Administration Handles Daily Situations

Leon Friedman
Assistant Principal

Mr. Friedman is in charge of relations between students and administration. He gives guidance to students which prepares them to meet future problems with confidence. Mr. Friedman has been at Buchtel for twelve years.

Jack D. Coberly
Assistant Principal

Mr. Coberly's main jobs are the admission of students and the encouraging of students in self-discipline. He is in charge of attendance. Mr. Coberly keeps well-informed on every problem which is a part of Buchtel. He has served Buchtel for four years.

Lucile Hale

English Promotes Creativity And Facilitates Communication

Impromptu compositions drain the brain.

At Buchtel, each student takes the level of English best suited to his needs. The Honors and A levels are geared for college bound students, while the B and C levels prepare those entering a vocation.

Students on all four levels study the great literary works but in varying degrees of depth and quantity. B and C levels stress the practical aspects of English grammar, vocabulary, and spelling because these are tools of communication.

Sophomore English is a world literature course which exposes the student to all forms of literature by authors of all nationalities and periods. In the A classes analysis of plot and action is stressed, while reading and interpretation is emphasized in the B and C levels. Students study the sentence, its construction and its place in the paragraph.

Junior English students examine English literature in both its early and contemporary forms. Emphasis is placed on theme and purpose. Skills are acquired in paragraph development and in the combining of these paragraphs with the aid of transitional devices. Juniors also practice their skills by writing business letters.

Senior English is the study of early and contemporary American literature with emphasis on idea and character development. Students in the B and C level classes also learn conciseness and clarity in the construction of a business letter.

Drama Classes, conducted by Mrs. Ballance, study the history of the theater from primitive to modern times. Practical experience is gained in the acting and directing of short scenes from plays. The classes participate in the Thanksgiving Day program and also in a one-act play contest sponsored by the Ohio Speech League.

Drama students gain acting experience.

Students gain experience in public speaking.

Advanced Speech under the direction of Miss Kohnz, is a course designed to give the student experience in public speaking. The format, consisting of extemporaneous speaking, debate, reading interpretation, and parliamentary procedure, enables the student to gain confidence before an audience. Ease in public speaking is a valuable tool which can be used in any profession.

Mrs. Dewey's Journalism classes prepare themselves for work on the Talon or Griffin staffs. The students learn to write leads, headlines, columns, editorials and feature stories in which their news must be both factual and exact. Field trips to the Akron Beacon Journal, print shops, and radio and television stations increase student awareness of the importance of communication.

Journalism students obtain ideas from local publications.

And this note here. . .

Buchtel offers two fine arts courses: Music Theory and Art. Mr. Kidder teaches not only the theory of music but also the relationship of music with art, literature and history. Under the direction of Miss Whitford, first year art students learn basic techniques. Miss Robinson then helps the student perfect his technique in advanced art.

History is the record of man's past. It is studied and taught at Buchtel in order that Buchtelites may learn the lessons of the past and thereby gain knowledge for dealing more thoughtfully with the problems of the present and future.

History courses are required and are divided into three general categories. Sophomores take World History; juniors, American History; and seniors, Senior Problems. Advanced placement courses in Modern European history and American history are also offered.

World History includes the history of man from the ancient civilizations until the outbreak of World War I. It begins with the story of the Egyptians and Babylonians and then shifts its emphasis to the Western world treating the feudal age, the Renaissance, the Reformation, the revolutionary period and the industrial age.

American History is the study of our American heritage. This study traces our social, political, religious, economic, and military development and their consequences on America today.

Senior Problems consists of world and American history since 1914. World War I and World War II are studied in detail with emphasis on the United States' role in them. Problems in international relations, capital versus labor, and inter-cultural relations are also emphasized.

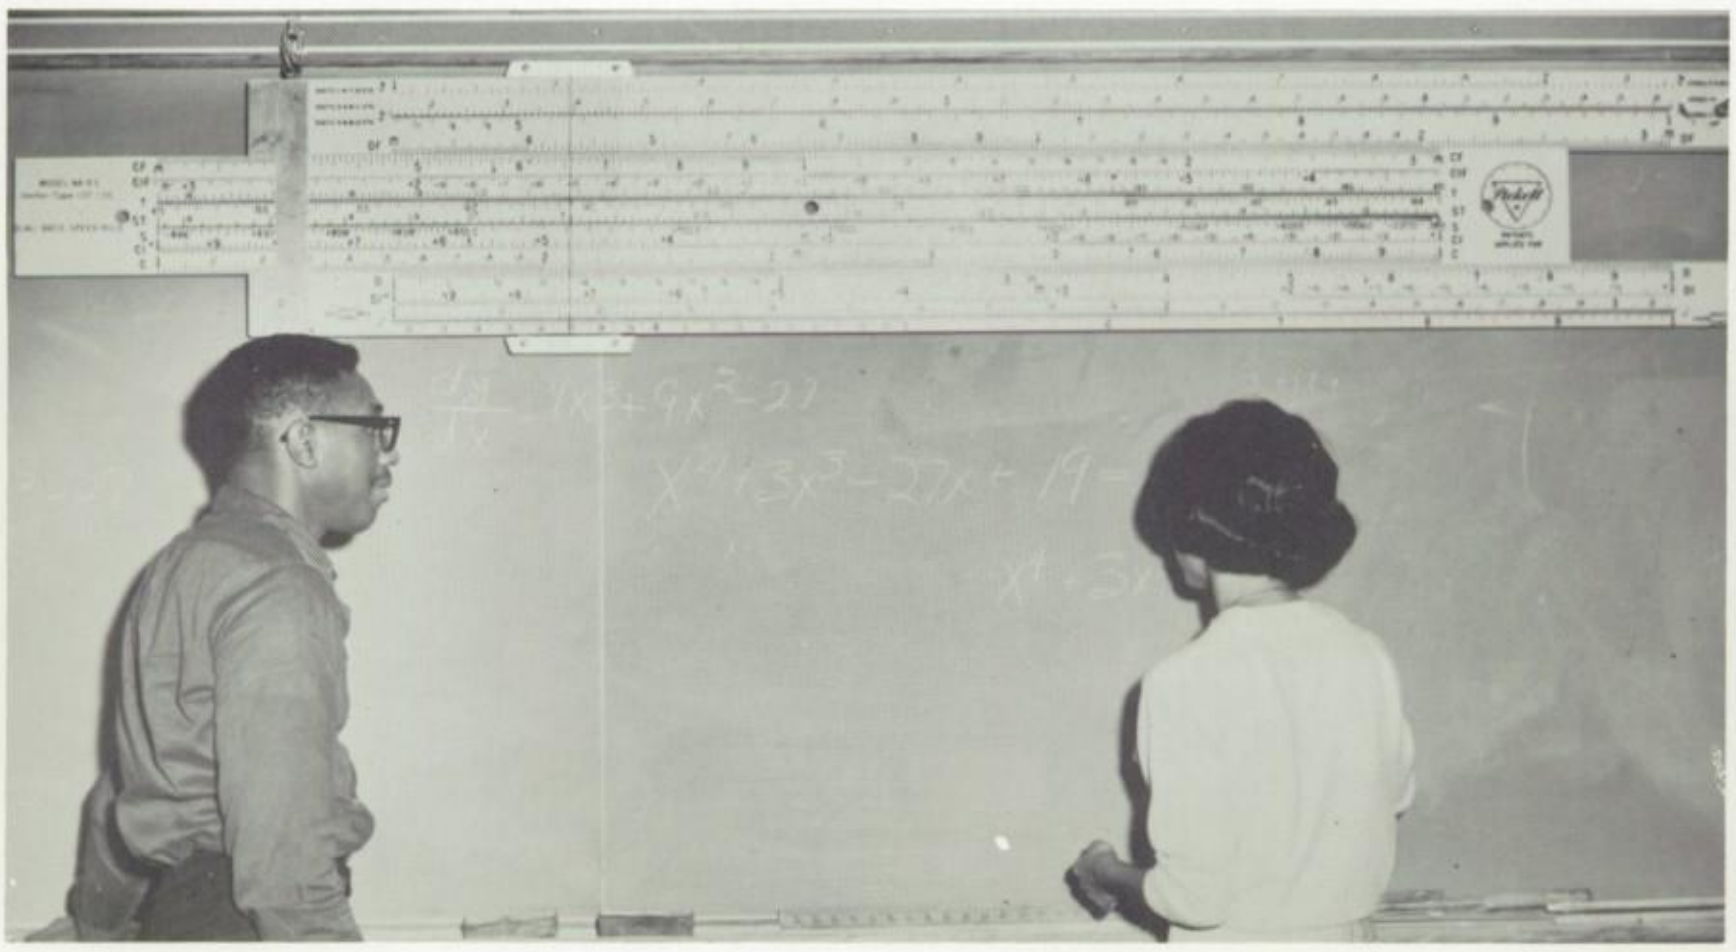
Algebra students work with unknown quantities; therefore, they must master a new set of processes in problem solving. Because algebra teaches the true relationships of numbers it is applicable to everyday use.

In Plane Geometry, the student studies the nature of proof, the plane-space relationship, and the precepts of induction and deduction. He learns the function and application of logic in non-mathematical situations and studies the relationship of points, lines, and surfaces in space.

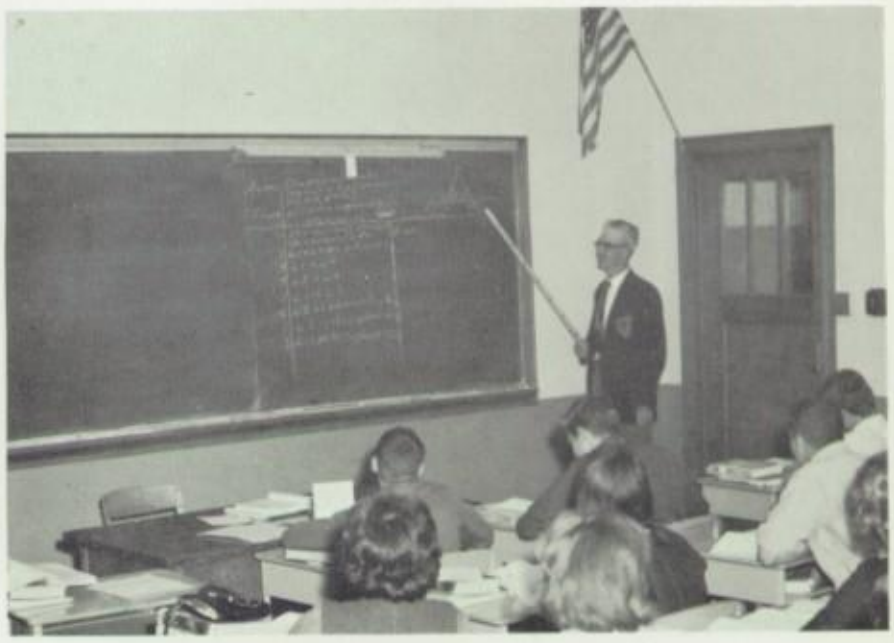
Buchtel's Trigonometry course is the study of an ancient geometrical figure, the triangle, the mathematical concepts it involves, and the practical applications that evolve from it. The "trig" student dissects the triangle, discovering basic relationships among the positions of its sides and angles.

Solid Geometry is a semester math course for juniors and seniors. Basically it involves theorems in three-dimensional geometry, space relationships and deductive reasoning.



The slide rule aids in rapid calculations.

Students examine new 3-dimensional geometric models.



Mr. Weir explains a geometric proof to sophomores.

Math V is intended for seniors who have had high school math through trig and solid geometry, but who are not taking Calculus. Included in the course are introductions to elementary functions; polynomial functions; graphs, and tangents to graphs, of function; circular and logarithmic functions.

Calculus is an integral part of today's highly technical world. It presents an entirely new concept from the elementary operations of arithmetic and algebra: that of limit. In the calculus and analytic geometry course the student learns to analyze and probe, discovering that each problem requires a different approach.

Biology, a required course for Buchtelites, is concerned with living things and everything about them. The simplest forms of plant and animal life are studied first. The course then progresses to the more complex forms, and finally to the study of man. Mr. Nelson, Miss Goss, and Mr. Shaffer teach Biology.

Courses in Physics at Buchtel are taught by Mr. Guy and Mr. Baker. This course has lab periods twice a week in addition to the daily class period. The text used in regular physics covers basic mechanics, heat, electricity, magnetism, and gravitation vector quantities. Sections on small particle and nuclear physics are also included.

Goggles, plastic aprons, and nauseating smells remind all Buchtelites that chemistry is being taught. Chemistry, the science of the makeup of substances and the changes that take place in them, is an elective subject for seniors. Lab work is an important facet of the course which allows the student to prove to himself what the text presents as fact. Mr. Gross, Mr. Hunt, and Mr. Pugh teach the course.

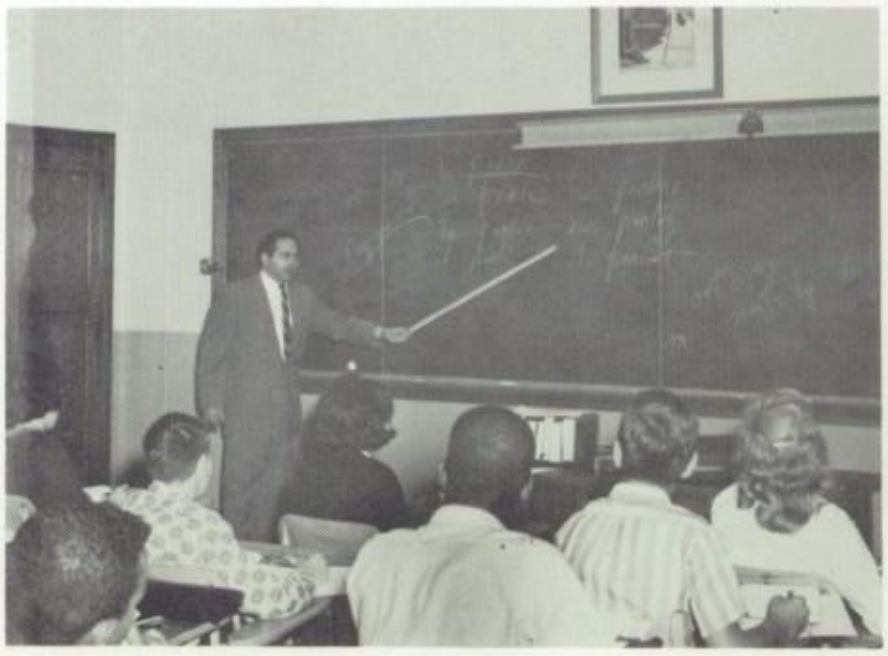
Language Lab helps students speak a foreign language fluently.

Buchtel's French department under the direction of Madame Fetherson and Monsieur Filey, lets the student acquaint himself with both the language and culture of France. During the first and second year, the student is given the background, vocabulary, grammar, and conversational portion of the language. He is also introduced to the culture and literature of France through the books Au pays du soleil and Promenades en France. Continuing these studies in third and fourth year he reads L'heritage Francais and Sommets litteraires francais which provide an intensive study of French history. culture, and literature,



Repetez s'il-vous plait.

Students in German II review grammar.

Students of German at Buchtel soon discover that the study of this Teutonic language also involves the study of the German nation. Under the direction of Miss Oberdeck, the student becomes familiar with basic German grammar. Declensions of nouns, pronouns, adjectives, as well as idioms, and irregular verb forms must be memorized. During the first and second years, the periodicals Das Rad and Der Roller are used to help the student put his acquired knowledge to use. German films and newsreels serve to keep the student informed on the interests and activities of the German people.

Latin students soon learn that the study of the language and of Roman culture is not the pursuit of a lost and forgotten civilization. Rather, it is the study of society which has a relevance to contemporary affairs. Second year pupils, after mastering grammar, fight Caesar's Gallic Wars and study selections of Livy. Cicero's thunderous eloquence comes to life again as third year students work with his orations. Reading Vergil's great Latin epic, the Aeneid, constitutes the work of the fourth year. In all courses, stress is placed on the lasting contributions the ancient Romans made to the development of Western culture. Miss Margaret Oechsner teaches sophomore classes, and Mrs. Emily Deal instructs the third and fourth year students.

Latin IV students and Mrs. Deal study Vergil.

Mr. Maddamma demonstrates Spanish culture.

Like other language students first and second year Spanish students, under the direction of Mr. Maddamma and Mr. Hanlon, study grammar and vocabulary. In third year review of simple grammar is given followed by an introduction to the finer points of usage. The student is also introduced to Spanish literature through simplified excerpts from great works including Don Quixote and The Civil Wars of Granada. Fourth year students continue with literature while they examine the lives of great Spaniards such as Columbus, Loyola, and Goya.

Office Practice students mimeographing Buch-tele-scope.

Pupils in Typing I learn to prepare letters, business forms, manuscripts, and soon acquire proficiency at the machine. Second year students improve their typing skills and techniques.

Shorthand classes learn the fundamentals of taking and reading notes in characters which are based upon the phonetic sounds in words. By the end of the second year, some students can take notes at a rate of 120 words per minute.

Transcription includes taking shorthand notes as a teacher dictates a letter and then transcribing these notes into longhand. The longhand should be an exact duplicate of the dictated letter.

Calculator and Burroughs' machines are used in the Comptometer courses. Students learn to add, subtract, multiply, and divide quickly and efficiently. All work is based on the decimal system.

Office Practice classes learn added secretarial skills such as filing, mimeographing, clerical typing plus typing with the use of dictaphones. Students also learn to cut stencils and use six types of calculators. Together with the Production classes, they serve Buchtel by preparing dance and class day programs and mimeographed sheets which are used throughout the school.

Business Training prepares the student for many personal business situations. Examples of these are checking accounts, stocks and bonds, insurance and credit purchases.

Bookkeeping students learn how to make systematic records of business transactions so that the condition of a business can be determined from them.

Business Law is concerned with rules that apply to business situations and transactions. Movies on law and various legal systems, classroom debates, speakers, and a Court House field trip highlight the year. Consumer Economics is the study of the use of one's personal income to its best advantage.

In Mr. McKay's Wood Shop classes students learn the skills required to use saws, drills, lathes, and planes. Putting their talents to practical use they then make anything from ornaments to furniture.

Metal Shop, unlike wood shop, requires that the student use more hand tools than machines. Mr. Shaffer teaches welding and soldering as well as the use of snips, pliers and wrenches.

Mechanical Drawing classes, taught by Mr. Payne, are offered for students interested in engineering and specialized art. The student acquires precision and accuracy with his instruments while training his eyes in the study of perspective and dimension. These skills are then used in lettering, blueprinting and drawing.

To educate girls in food and nutrition, Buchtel offers courses in Cooking for grades 11 and 12. First-year students, under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Smith, learn to plan meals, to market wisely, and to entertain graciously, in addition to preparing food. In the second year, girls also learn outdoor cookery and the methods of practicing proper dieting.

Under the direction of Miss Reese, the Sewing classes examine the many phases of clothing construction. First year students study basic construction and wardrobe co-ordination, with special emphasis placed on fabric use. Second and third year is devoted to tailoring and design, with concentration on men's and children's clothing.

Approximately four hundred students take Driver's Training each year. The purpose of this program is to promote safe, sensible, courteous driving among teenagers. The student receives a twelve-week course in driving fundamentals in Health class and may then take the optional six-week course in which he actually drives. Mr. Mallo and Mr. Rossi are the instructors.

Gym And Health Promote Physical Fitness

The sophomore girls' gym classes begin with five minutes of exercises and end with a few laps around the gym or one time around the track. Activities include soccer, volleyball, softball, basketball, and some tennis. Tumbling and work with gym apparatus rounds out the year's schedule.

Mr. Appleby's sophomore classes begin the year with outdoor activities, including the regular exercises, and participation in soccer, baseball, or track events. During the winter, indoor activities include workouts on the mats, parallel bars, and horses, Round Robin basketball and other team sports. All boys remember the semester calisthenics tests, locker room routine, and demerits.

Health class is a must for every Buchtel junior. Each student learns the required subjects of First Aid and Safety, studies the effects of alcohol and narcotics, and spends twelve weeks on driver education. Along with the required subjects, Home Nursing is taught in both the girls' and boys' classes.

JUNIOR CLASS SONG

Parting will not make us sad,
We're the sun which makes all glad,
We'll win honors by the score,
More than any other class before,
Since the others say good-bye,
We must keep the standards high
Beams its golden light of truth
That is youth.

Now a new day greets the world,
Griffin's banner floats unfurled
Through us progress marches on,
Tho' our task is never done.
Challenge fling we o'er the earth,
Bound to conquer from our birth,
No one's vassal, no one's pawn,
Brains we have and also brawn,
We carry on.

Activities

In activity we must find our joy as well as glory; and labor, like everything else that is good, is its own reward.

Howdy Day . . . Promotes

Howdy Day, designed to welcome the sophomores to Buchtel, was held Friday, October 9. Howdy books, which provide students with permanent memories of their high school friendships, were sold during both lunch periods.

During the Howdy Day Assembly, Comwolei members presented three skits depicting the sophomores, junior, and senior classes at Buchtel.

To the average sophomore, the first few days at Buchtel are confusing and embarrassing. The seniors presented their interpretation of the sophomore dilemma.

One of the most important events in the junior year is the election of the homecoming court and queen. The sophomores presented their rendition of the annual homecoming festivities.

The senior year is a busy and exciting one. In addition to the usual studies, the seniors are involved in parties, the class play, the prom and graduation. The juniors depicted the seniors' final year at Buchtel.

Following the skits, the dance band played, and the entire student body joined in signing Howdy books.

Our group had 45% fewer dates!

Through the clouds and "Autumn Mist", Queen Kim and her court royally emerged as October 24 marked Buchtel's 1964 Homecoming. The Greg Zalar Trio entertained our queen and her royal subjects. During intermission, Kim was officially crowned Homecoming Queen by Ann Smithers, and was afterwards entertained by Mazi Johnson and Valerie Pitts who sang a medley of the Queen's favorite tunes. The duet was accompanied by Doug Connor and Neil Rich.

The Christmas season was highlighted by the 1964 Senior Christmas Formal, "Winter Wonderland". The dance was held in the gym from 8:30 to 11:30 on December 23. Music was provided by the Greg Zalar Trio from Kent State. Couples danced 'round a fifteen-foot Christmas tree draped in pink angel hair in keeping with the pink and white theme of the dance. Entertainment was provided by the Buchtel Ensemble during intermission.

Barb Waldman and Wayne Kielsmeier acted as co-chairmen for the annual event which has become a gathering for Buchtel juniors, seniors, and alumni. This year's sponsors were Miss Roberta Reese and Mr. Otis Maxwell.

Bye-Bye Birdie

This year Buchtel staged its first musical, Bye-Bye Birdie, the recent Broadway hit by Michael Stewart, Charles Strouse, and Lee Adams. As an all school play, over two hundred people were involved in the planning, publicizing, and eventual production of this satire on rock 'n roll idols and their swooning fans. Miss Steiner, Mr. Kidder, and Miss Howard directed the cast while Miss Robinson and her staff created the sets. Mr. Lentine worked with the orchestra, and Mr. Schneyer acted as overall stage co-ordinator.

Penny jugs contributed a large sum to the AFS fund.

Sponsoring a foreign exchange student next year at Buchtel is the aim of the American Field Service committee, a branch of Student Council. In order to sponsor a student, Buchtel had to raise $750. This goal was achieved through various drives under the leadership of Judi Looker and her committee. A bake sale was held in October, friendship shares were sold to students and adults, penny jugs were placed in the cafeteria lines for students to drop in their spare change and a lollipop sale was held to make money. The spring project was a car wash. In order to keep up enthusiasm for the drive, the committee showed a movie about foreign exchange students and in February, a panel of foreign students addressed the student body.

Tutor Corps

Tutor Corps is a program designed to give private help to grade school students doing poorly in certain subjects. Based on the theory that youth best helps youth, the goal is two-fold. A high school student helps one child, not only in the subject in which he most needs tutoring, but in encouraging him to continue his education.

Aiding in such subjects as social studies, language arts, arithmetic, and particularly, reading, the tutor volunteers two one-hour sessions per week for six weeks after school under adult supervision. He may use various materials available through the advising teacher.

Tutor Corps volunteers are chosen by parental consent and by approval from Mr. Schneyer and their guidance counselor. Pupils in the third through sixth grades in Grace and Crouse schools are selected by their teachers and principals. Problem children are never assigned to a tutor.

Buchtel is the first Akron school to participate in the Tutor Corps program. Over seventy-five students volunteered in the past year. Director of the program is Mrs. Abbie Willacy.

The Activities Committee plans dances, pep assemblies, and many other extra-curricular activities. It is recognized as the third branch of Buchtel's Student Government program.

National Forensic League

In four months the thirty members of National Forensic League attended 14 debate and individual events tournaments and 4 student Congresses.

Bob Gippin and Donna Sombaty earned the degree of distinction, the highest award given to an NFL member. As senior members of the Debate Squad, they were the first Akron students ever to qualify for the National Speech Tournament, to be held this year in Omaha, Nebraska. Donna Sombaty, president of NFL, earned the greatest number of points of any previous Buchtel student.

Buchtel's NFL hosted the district tournament in January, and presented the traditional Veterans Day and Memorial Day programs. The district finals were held February 13, 1965 to determine the Akron representative to the state tournament at Ohio State.

Talon Informs Buchtelites

Laura Kopelson, Talon editor, goes over a fine point with Mrs. Dewey, Talon advisor.

Despite lack of funds, this year's Talon staff has managed to publish a newspaper upholding Buchtel's journalistic tradition. The Talon consists of factual news, interesting features, informative editorials, and exciting sports stories. This year the staff's goal has been to include as many different students as possible in each issue. The staff is divided into five main units: news, editorial, feature, sports and business. Each page has an editor who sees to it that his page is interesting, accurate and attactive and that his reporters meet their deadlines. The traditional Talon - Griffin feud raged this year as evidenced in the poems.

Talon - Griffin Feud

The Talon is good—(the Griffin is bad),
The Talon staff's happy—(the Griffin staff's sad).
The Talon staff's lively, ambitious, and wise —
The Griffin staff's lazy, just "finks" in disguise.
There's Schlemmer and Richards, Zarrilli, and Kline;
(As people will tell you, that group's not too fine!)
But don't worry, Griffin—you can't help your fate;
You're fighting the TALON and we're really great!!!

Griffin Reviews 1964-1965 School Year

Griffin editors, Jean Schlemmer and Judi Richards get Mrs. Hanahan's approval on page layout.

Each class, activity, sport, and student at Buchtel has been the special concern of this year's Griffin staff. Many hours have been spent in planning and assembling this yearbook, to make it the most accurate, complete book ever. In an attempt to better reflect the academic tradition, which has always been a vital part of Buchtel, this year's Griffin staff has compiled a new academic section which includes faculty and classes. Because of the efforts of the senior class, enough money was made in advertising to produce a book of the highest caliber.

Griffin - Talon Feud

Oh Talon, dear Talon we're feelin' so glad,
You showed us our egging has gotten you mad.
We laugh at your poetry, simple and short,
Then sit down and write a resounding retort!
Or—better still—a challenge, you hear?
"Let's compare work at the end of the year."
In the meantime, no quarrel, no quibble, no chirp
Out of you birds who make no more noise than a burp!
We'll gladly concede you can raise quite a chatter,
But that's all you accomplish, and that's just the matter
With your humble paper, a mere four-page spread,
Our GRIFFIN yields ten-squared and more to be read!
So do something constructive, remember the test,
At the end of the year, "Who laughs last will laugh BEST!!"

Quill and Scroll

International Honorary Society for High School Journalists

Outstanding journalistic achievement is recognized through Quill and Scroll, an international journalism honorary organization. Buchtel seniors who have shown superior work in some phase of journalism, such as the Talon or Griffin, and rank in the top third of their class scholastically may be recommended for Quill and Scroll by the publications' advisors. These students must then be approved by the Secretary of the Society before membership is finalized.

Encore

Coordinating Buchtel's literary and artistic efforts this year was Barb Russell, editor-in-chief of Encore. She and her art editor, Nancy Rech, met separately with their respective staffs every Friday after school to sift through the work submitted by Buchtel students. The best material was then arranged into Encore, thus continuing the newly established literary tradition at Buchtel. Staff members include: Karen Malmin, circulation manager; Jim Hofbauer, business manager; Dick Cullison, managing editor; Linda Barnett, Nancy Davis, Rennie Gertz, Gary Grebelsky, Jim Ovens, Marty Rosenthal, Cheryl Ulrich, editorial staff; and Jan Boone, Charles Mynatt, and Diane Wells, typists. Student Workers Serve Buchtel

Cafeteria Workers

Cafeteria workers volunteer one period each day to help keep the lunch lines running smoothly and quickly. Heads of the cafeteria staff first semester were Betty Wilder and Barb Waldman. Claudia Hopkins and Nancy Sihler took over second semester. Students work during the lunch periods as cashiers, servers, and dishwashers. Fourth period workers prepare the counters for service.

Gym Assistants

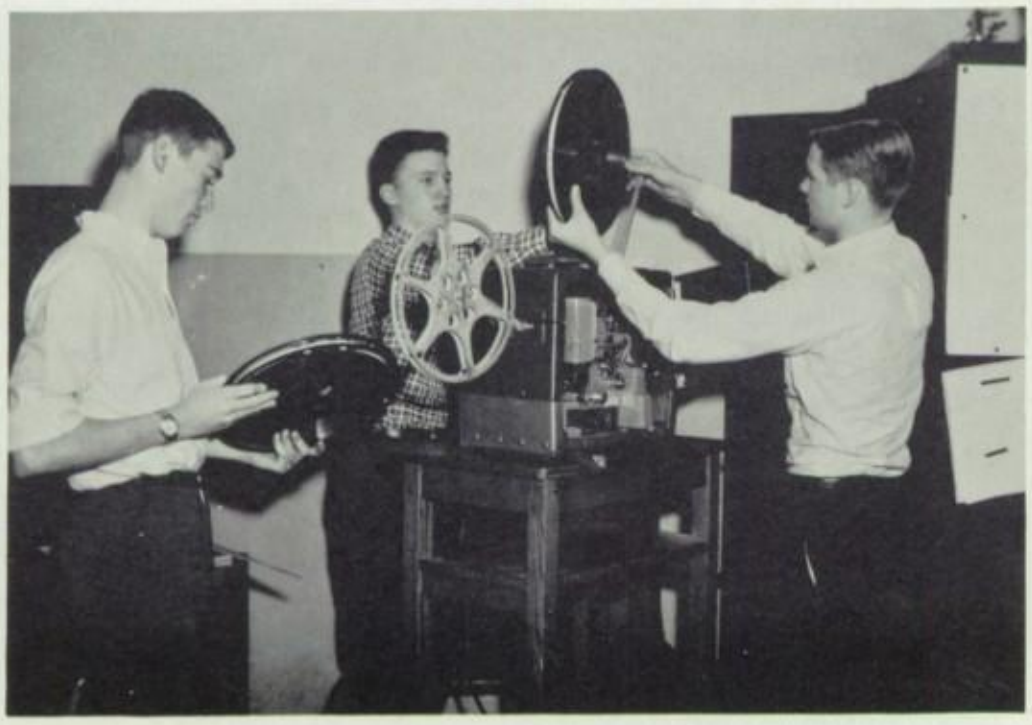
Working on the apparatus, leading exercises, checking attendance, and participating as referees, the gym assistants aid Mrs. Duvé in teaching the sophomore girls the importance of physical fitness.

Library Workers

Receiving valuable experience from their time and effort, library workers sacrifice a study hall to help Miss Sexauer keep the library in good order. Checking books in and out and arranging shelves are just a few of their many duties. The library workers enable Buchtel's library to run smoothly and to meet the needs of the student body.

Traffic Workers

The smooth and efficient operation of the school parking facilities is made possible by the effort of the traffic boys. This is an important service and deserves merit especially on cold winter days. Checking to see if the cars are properly registered and that drivers observe regulations is also the responsibility of the traffic workers.

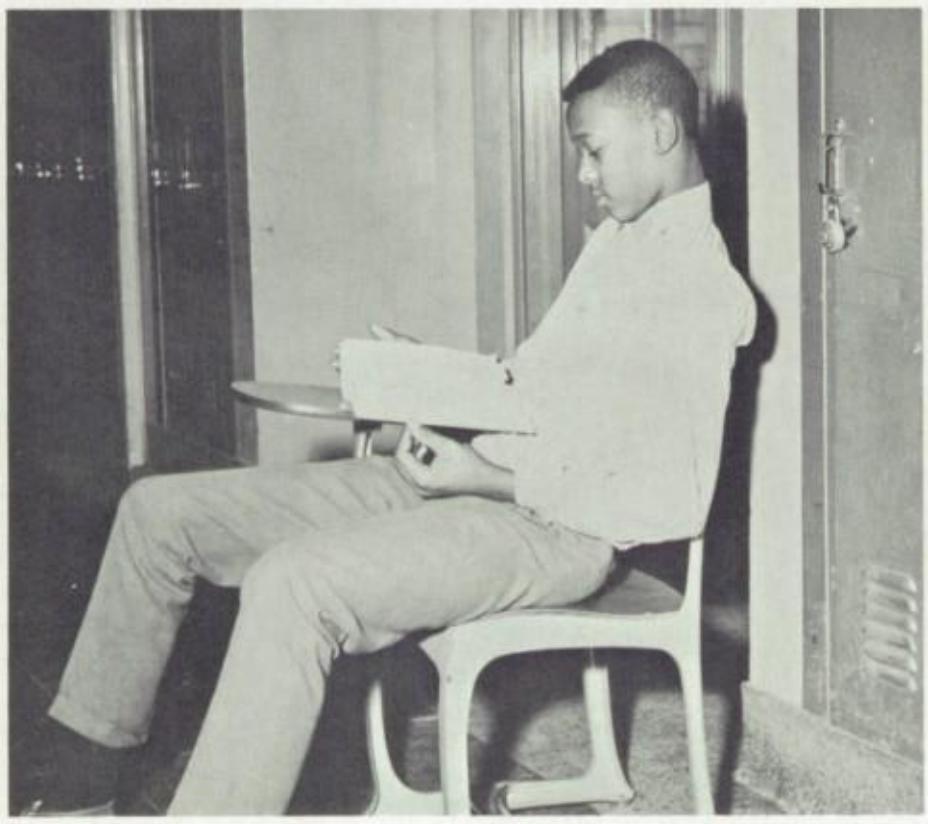


Audio-Visual Staff

The audio-visual staff serves the school in the presentation of the noon movies and daily announcements. Their efforts assure the maintenance of these two valuable school functions. It is the responsibility of this staff to prepare for the sports assemblies as well as to prepare for the sound effects and lighting for Buchtel's drama activities.

Office Workers

Office workers render a valuable service to their school. These girls perform a variety of jobs, such as answering the phone, running errands, and sorting mail. This experience gives the girls an insight into the management of a high school and a business office.



Hall Guards

Hall guards perform valuable service to the administration by checking wanderers in the halls. The boys are posted in different areas of the building for the purpose of checking hall passes.

Treasury Staff

Under the supervision of Mr. Michael Kermizis, the treasury staff keeps the records and accounts for all school functions. This job lets advanced bookkeeping students exercise their knowledge of bookkeeping while performing an important service to their school.

Ticket Sellers

The support of school athletics is largely due to the efforts of the ticket sellers. These girls manage the sale of tickets for various school activities such as football and basketball games, school plays, and dances. They play a major role in encouraging school spirit in addition to informing the students of coming athletic events.

Clinic Workers

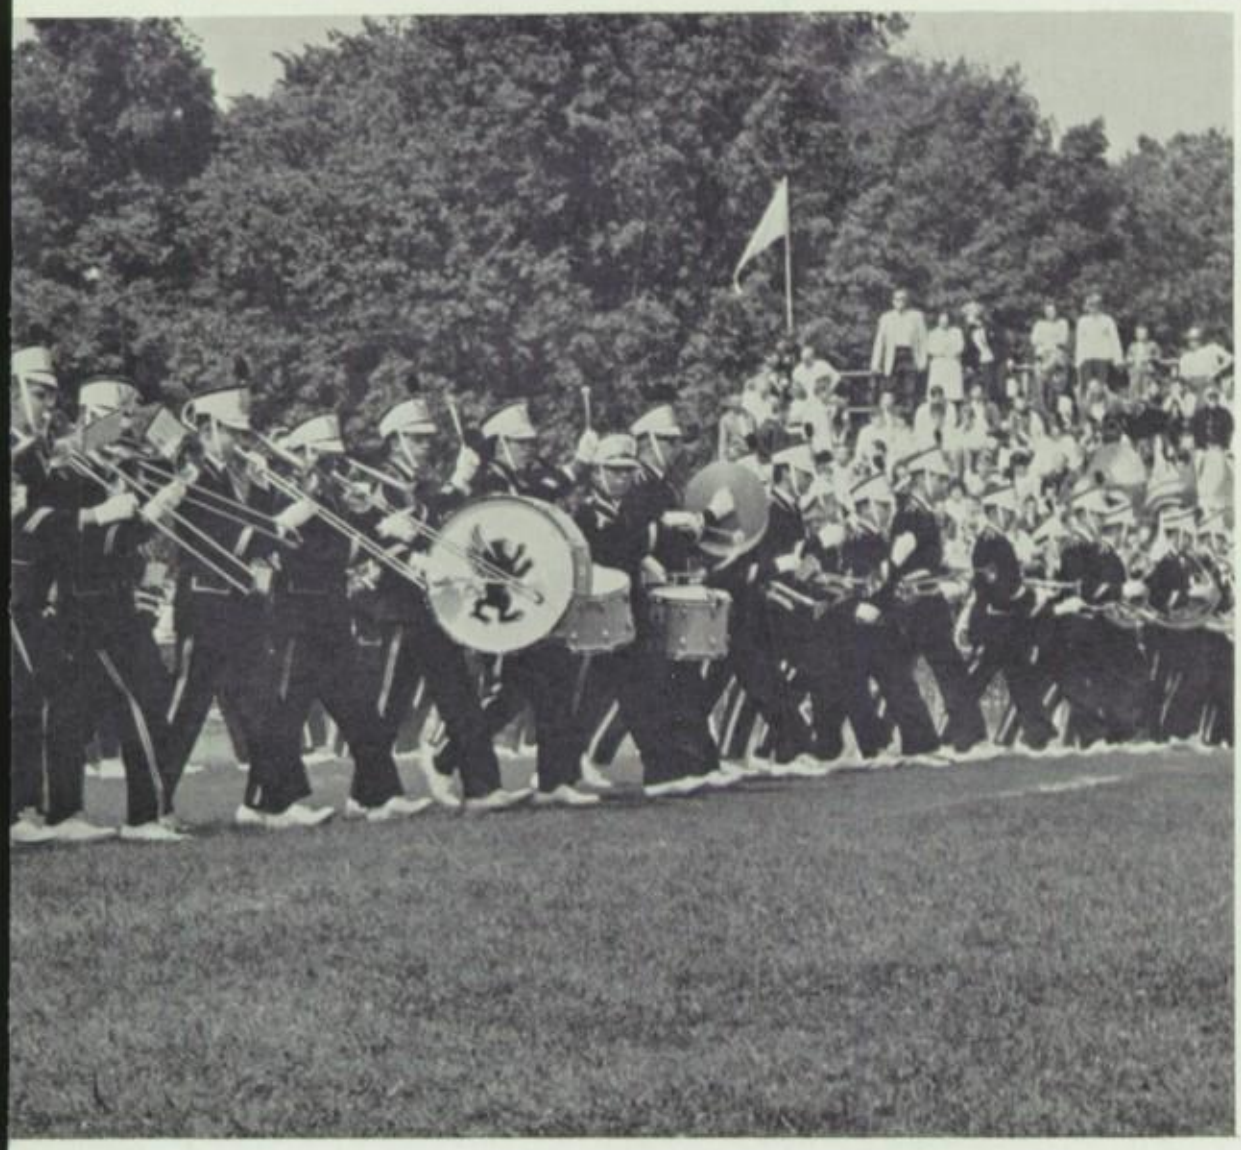
Seeking to gain practical experience in the nursing profession, the clinic workers devote one period each day in the school clinic. By performing this service for their school, they prepare themselves for later service to their community.

Stage Crew

Members of the stage crew spend many hours in preparing for school dramatic productions. These students perform valuable services by helping during assemblies and special P.A. announcements. They also assist with the decorations for many of Buchtel's dances.

Buchtel's Marching Band

Senior Majorettes: Marcia Holland, Elaine Coy, Carol Mascolo, Sue Zied, Vicki Wolf, Carol Sims, Pam Psihos, Marilyn Ferris, Marcia Bundy.



Under the leadership of Janice Mohler, the majorettes and band arouse spirit during half-time performances. The band performs various formations through mud or dust to entertain spectators.

Mr. Joseph Lentine directs the band and majorettes on the football field and at pep assemblies. Completing a highly entertaining season, they have reached new heights this year in musical and marching ability. After a period of two years' service in the band, each member is eligible for a band letter.

The band and majorettes practice sixth period every day and often times before and after school.

Cheerleaders Promote Spirit

Throughout football and basketball season Buchtel's spirited cheerleaders lead Griffin fans in the traditional cheers which help spur the team to victory. Off the field they promote interest and enthusiasm with announcements of coming events and well-planned pep assemblies. These girls spend many extra hours perfecting and revising their routines, painting huge signs, writing clever new cheers, and teaching Buchtel's future varsity cheerleaders. Following basketball season each girl is assigned a sport which she publicizes to the fullest extent.

Senior cheerleaders this year were Ann Seiler and Betty Wilder, with co-captains Judy Brown and Janice Tarson. Sue Swedler, Buchtel's first Griffin mascot, was a welcome addition to the spirit squad this year.

Co-captains are Judy Brown and Janice Tarson.

COACH ROSSI

Coach Marion Rossi has piloted the Buchtel High football team to its best season (6-3) in the past 9 years. Seventeen seniors formed the backbone of the squad which was captained by Chuck Nolan, Terry Link, and Booker Weaver. The Griffin defeat of the previously undefeated City-Championship East team (6-0) was the highlight of the season. When the all-city choices came out, Bill Stubbs was the only junior in the city to make the first team. Included in the 2nd-team all-city choices were seniors Terry Link and Chuck Nolan and junior Chip Wood.

"CITY CHAMPS . . . CITY CHAMPS . . . CITY CHAMPS"

During his five years at Buchtel High School, Coach Bernie Conley has won two out of every three games in compiling a 71-34 record. Perhaps the greatest tribute to Mr. Conley is the 1965 team record of 21 wins and 2 losses, the best season in Griffin history. For these accomplishments, Coach Conley was chosen 1965 Coach of the Year for all of Northeastern Ohio. His team, led by six seniors, captured the City Crown, Sectional Title, and were runners-up in the District Tournament. The two main assets of this year's team were the fine defensive play which allowed an average of only 52 points per game (while the Griffins were scoring at a 65 point pace) and unselfish teamwork.

Senior Song Traditional On Class Day

SENIOR FAREWELL

Now our high-school days are ending!
Days to memory so dear;
All our voices sad are blending
For no more we enter here.

Yes, alas! the hour of parting
Casts a shadow o'er our band;
Sighs, and even tears are starting,
As we grasp each friendly hand.

We have had our fun and frolic
We have worked, and we have played;
We have teased and we have fretted,
But at last, our goal we've made.

Fairer days are now before us,
Nobler work our hands may do,
Bright the future comes to greet us,
And to lead to labors new.

Friends and school mates, now we leave you
All we feel we cannot tell,
So we give to Buchtel High School
This our last and fond farewell!

BUCHTEL HIGH ALMA MATER

O, Buchtel High, to you we bring
Our praises and our loyalty.
For you our songs of reverence sing,
And voice our true fidelity.
O, Buchtel High, dear Buchtel High.
We lift your standard to the sky;
For we your children staunch and true
Pledge lifelong loyalty to you.

Oh Griffin bold, in days of yore
You guarded treasures then untold,
You guard to-day a countless store
Of wealth more dear to us than gold.
Oh black and white, our banners gleam,
Emblazoned on the western sky,
Our hearts are beating to the theme,
Our Alma Mater, Buchtel High.

The Griffin In Retrospect

Every ninth period from September through March the Griffin room overflowed with people, clutter, and noise. Through some bizarre twist of fate we managed to acquire an efficient staff which was as eager to publish a good book as we were. As the editors, we wish to thank our staff for a job well done. Our special appreciation goes to those people who were willing to stay until 5:00 P.M. five days a week, in order that we could meet our deadlines.

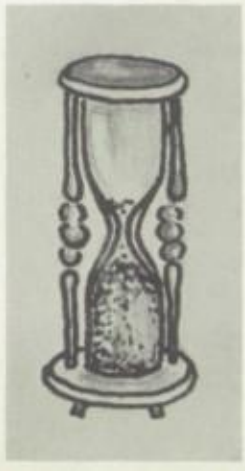
We also wish to acknowledge Mrs. Hanahan, our advisor, whose infinite patience provided the relaxed atmosphere in which we thrived.

To Mr. Leahy, the publisher's representative, goes our thanks for both his help on mechanical details and his optimism which never ceased to buoy our spirits.

We thank Carpenter's Studio for their cooperation and excellent photography, both formal and informal.

A special vote of thanks goes to Tom Geiger of Kent State University for his creative photography which appears on both the sports and division pages.

We would like to express our appreciation to Mr. Kermizis for his assistance to our business staff.

We hope that you will enjoy this book for years to come.


Co-Editors,
Judi Richards
